overview

The Bachelor in Business and Foreign Languages degree is awarded by Sorbonne University in Paris and delivered by world-class academics in Sorbonne University Abu Dhabi. The programme is an exclusive three-year degree aimed at training qualified students, to meet the needs of major international and local corporations to overcome contemporary business challenges that arise with globalisation. The curriculum is primarily delivered in French, with a few courses taught in English, and prepares students for rewarding careers by offering a double qualification in languages and management.

Students will gain a fundamental understanding of finance, business administration, marketing, human resource management as well as international business law to understand and interpret complex international legal issues and documents. Students will study subjects including economics to analyse local and international economic issues as well as IT. Through assignments and interactive sessions with their peers, students will refine their interpersonal and communication skills for business. Through courses on civilisation and cross-cultural management, students will gain in-depth understanding of diverse cultural and historical backgrounds with a specific emphasis on multi-cultural management.

The programme faculty are all internationally renowned professors whose teaching methodology goes beyond the traditional forms of teaching to ensure a balanced and well-rounded learning experience. Seminars are hosted by working professionals who share their experiences with students. During the degree programme, students will examine real life case studies, attend corporate workshops on campus and partake in corporate internships. There will be ample international exposure through linguistic field trips in Europe, the Sorbonne University Summer University and exchange programmes.

By the end of the programme, students will improve their business vocabulary in their chosen language and acquire fluent multilingual skills in three international languages including English and French with either German, Spanish, Italian, Arabic or Chinese.

The curriculum follows the European ECTS system and the degree is awarded by Sorbonne University in Paris.
